ABOUT ME

Frontend Developer with a solid foundation in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and Vue, I have experience in industrial projects where I collaborated with development teams to enhance the usability and functionality of websites. Expanding my skill set with React to diversify my frontend expertise. I am seeking an opportunity in an innovative environment that values UX/UI design. In my free time, I love exploring nature and going on long bike rides to unwind.

EXPERIENCE

Frontend Web Developer 01/24 - 09/24

Cleverativity - Full Remote

Frontend developer in a company working on industrial/mechanical projects. My responsibilities include:

- Developing responsive and intuitive user interfaces to enhance overall user experience.
- Creating and maintaining customizable websites for heat exchangers based on technical input from clients.
- Collaborating with the team to integrate feedback and optimize site functionality, ensuring that client requirements are fully met.
- Utilizing a technology stack (Vue, Quasar, TypeScript) to build reusable and maintainable components.
- Support: Managing entire projects and coordinating work for colleagues by distributing tasks and providing support to meet deadlines.
- Communication and Problem-Solving: Actively participating in sprint meetings to update the team on tasks and challenges, and independently conducting client meetings to present progress and address technical questions.
- Independently completing most tasks while effectively solving technical issues and meeting deadlines.
- English Proficiency: Fluent in English, enabling effective communication and collaboration with international colleagues.

EDUCATION

Master Full Stack Web Developer 09/22 - 02/23

Boolean Careers

Intensive six-month course where I learned the fundamentals of web development programming from scratch. At the end of the course, I developed a web application using Vue and Laravel, applying the skills I had acquired.

Diploma in Computer Science 09/13 - 07/19

IIS Verona Trento

Skills in information systems, data processing, web applications and technologies, as well as in networks and communication devices.
